The International Trade Centre (ITC)

The International Trade Centre (ITC) is the joint agency of the World Trade Organization and the United Nations. ITC assists small and medium-sized enterprises in developing and least developed countries to become more competitive in global markets, thereby contributing to sustainable economic development.

WHAT ARE SHETRADES HUBS?

A Global Network of 19 Hubs

ITC SheTrades Hubs are decentralized platforms through which the SheTrades Initiative delivers in-country interventions. Administered by local institutions, SheTrades Hubs help increase the sustainability of the Initiative's interventions by promoting local ownership and alignment with national and sectoral priorities.

To support national institutions to deliver on their commitment, Hubs receive institutional strengthening support by ITC (e.g. co-delivery of training and B2B services, service digitalization, gender-responsive public procurement, etc) and benefit from peer-to-peer learning with a growing network of 19 Hubs across Africa, Asia, the Caribbean, and Latin America.

On top of the wide array of opportunities open to all SheTrades.com users, women-led businesses of SheTrades Hubs also gain exclusive access to Hubs-only capacity building and business generation activities. These may range from support to participate in regional or international trade fairs, or opportunities to participate in on-site or virtual trainings of trainers, training and coaching on a multitude of themes (e.g. digitalization, crisis management and risk assessment, export readiness, etc.).

The ITC SheTrades Approach

Since its inception in 2015, the ITC SheTrades Initiative has implemented projects in 38 countries, enabled over $380 million in business and investment opportunities for women-led businesses, and established partnerships with 140 public and private sector partners.

Creating the right conditions and capacities for women to participate in and benefit equally from trade requires all key stakeholders in the trade and business ecosystem to be activated. This is why SheTrades not only works with women in all their diversity (e.g. entrepreneurs, producers, workers, young women, cross-border traders, etc), but also ecosystem enablers such as policymakers, business support organisations (BSOs), and private sector partners.
